Accident report

This accident is recorded on the country MAC's Accident summary sheet but no documentation was found in January 1999 despite the fact that it involved one of the MAC's own demining groups. The summary sheet noted the mine type.

The accident classification is inferred from the injury.

The country MAC's Accident summary sheet recorded a severe eye injury.

Analysis

In the absence of any detail about how the accident occurred, the primary cause of this accident is listed as "Inadequate equipment" because the only identifiable failing is that the group did not provide the victim with effective eye protection (whether it was worn or not is not known).
